Do any of these committee members have potential conflicts of interest?

A conflict of interest occurs when someone is in a position to make or influence a decision about a grant or award that could benefit them, their family, their business, or an entity in which they serve in a paid or voluntary leadership or advisory position.

For each Rotary member who serves on the grant committee, list all relationships that the member has with any scholarship recipients, cooperating organizations, project vendors, or other individuals or organizations that will benefit from the grant.

Below are the relationships to the organisations (none of the individuals will benefit):

1. Bronwyn Maree - employed by a company that is donating a Biodiversity Centre to Lapalala Wilderness School (LWS, she is based at the School) and is Company Secretary of LWS. She is not employed by either the LWS or Lapalala Wilderness Reserve and will not benefit from this grant.
2. Chris Das - visitor (with guests) to Welgevonden Game Reserve and will not benefit from this grant but is aware of the challenges the reserve faces based on his visits to the reserve

Next, list all relationships that district officers and other members of the sponsor clubs or districts (other than the members of the grant committee) have with any award recipients, cooperating organizations, project vendors, or other individuals or organizations that would benefit from the grant.

1. Jeannine Ibbotson (member of Rotary Club of Newlands, District 9350) - Co-chair of Welgevonden Game Reserve. Jeannine will not personally benefit from this grant.

Project Overview

Tell us a little about your project. What are the main objectives of the project, and who will benefit from it?

South Africa is home to the majority of the world's rhinoceros populations, particularly the White and Black Rhinoceros. Unfortunately, this makes the Waterberg region a prime target for poaching, driven by the high demand for rhino horn in the Asian market, where it is used in traditional medicine.

In the first six months of 2024 alone, 229 rhinos were poached in South Africa. Of these, 191 were killed on state properties, while 38 were taken from privately owned parks, reserves, and farms. This alarming statistic underscores the critical role that privately owned land plays in the protection of these endangered species.

Among these private lands, Welgevonden Game Reserve (37,000 hectares; coordinates 24 16.499°S, 28 03.149°E) and Lapalala Wilderness Nature Reserve (48,000 hectares; coordinates 23.8422°S 28.3663°E) stand out as safe havens for rhinos. These reserves have opted not to dehorn their rhinos, a decision that emphasizes their commitment to preserving the species in its natural state. Both reserves are located within the UNESCO Waterberg Biosphere Reserve and are dedicated to balancing economic, social, and environmental imperatives for the benefit of their members, neighbouring communities, and other key stakeholders.

This project's primary goal is to ensure endangered species' survival through environmental conservation and education. Effective funding of these key actions not only provides protection within the reserves, but also extends the influence and impact of conservation efforts beyond their boundaries.

With many of the larger rhino populations in South Africa and Namibia now dehorned, poachers are likely to shift their focus to smaller, privately-owned properties, which often have limited resources. Welgevonden and Lapalala Wilderness are situated within the Waterberg Intensive Wildlife Zone (W-IWZ), a government initiative by the Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and Environment (DFFE) in partnership with the Peace Parks Foundation (PPF).

Do any committee members have a potential conflict of interest related to a cooperating organization?

Yes

If so, please briefly explain.

Bronwyn Maree has done some (unrelated) research work for Lapalala Wilderness Nature Reserve (LWNR, unpaid work).

Why did you choose to partner with this organization and what will its role be?

LWNR and Welgevonden Game Reserve are two of the strongholds for rhino's in South Africa. They are key landowners to engage with. They will be implementing many of the aspects of the project on their respective reserve. Both of these reserves have proven successful in protecting rhino's and are such credible organizations to partner with.

Partners (Optional)

List any other partners that will participate in this project.

Lapalala Wilderness School

Welgevonden Environmental Awareness Programme

Rotarian Participants

Describe the roles and responsibilities that the host and international sponsors will have in this project. Please be specific. Which sponsor will receive and manage the grant funds?

Host sponsor: will be responsible for the communication between all rotary clubs and cooperating organizations, submit the relevant reports to donors and rotary international/partners, ensure monitoring and evaluation takes place, organize regular committee meetings, visit the projects and ensure finances are well managed.

International sponsor: will be responsible for the majority of the fundraising of the project and make sure the funds are spent in the correct manner, as well as be actively involved in committee meetings and other key decisions within the project. Chris Das will also be visiting the Welgevonden Game Reserve and will be able to visit this aspect of the project.

Describe how the partnership between the host and international sponsors was formed. What agreement have the sponsors made toward ensuring that the project will be implemented successfully? How will they manage any challenges that arise throughout the project?

The host and international sponsors were connected via Geraldine Nicol (Environmental Sustainability Committee, District 9350). Geraldine reached out to see whether the Rotary E-Club of Baobab would be interested in collaborating with this project, as they were closely related to the project location.

The sponsors have agreed to hold regular meetings (monthly, unless more regular meetings are required) and for Bronwyn Maree from the host sponsor to visit the projects as needed, to ensure progress is on track, collect monitoring and evaluation information and to update the international sponsor on progress.

Where possible, three quotes will be obtained before any equipment expenditure is made.

Sustainability

Humanitarian Projects

Project planning

Describe the community needs that your project will address.

1. Protect Natural Resources:

Safeguard the black and white rhinoceros populations and the lands on which they thrive within Lapalala Wilderness Nature Reserve and Welgevonden Game Reserve.

2. Enhance Community Capacity:

Strengthen local communities through environmental education and awareness programs. Increase the awareness of international communities regarding the issue of poaching and necessity for support.

3. Support Ranger Capacity and Well-being:

Enhance the skills and well-being of field rangers tasked with protecting biodiversity and managing natural resources.

4. Advance Species Knowledge:

Conduct relevant research to improve understanding of rhinoceros species and their conservation needs.

Environmental Sustainability is Key to the Success

The project's success will be guided by the following sustainability principles:

1. Knowledge-sharing:

Through programs like Welgevonden Environmental Awareness Programme and Lapalala Wilderness School, the project will disseminate critical knowledge about conservation.

2. Engaging Local Stewards:

By involving rangers and local community members, the project will ensure local buy-in and support for conservation efforts.

3. Institutionalization: Seed funding and training certifications will be used to create lasting institutional frameworks for conservation.

4. Financial Sustainability:

The project will seek external support and engage in ongoing fundraising activities through ecotourism, funding applications, and private donations. Conservation gate levies are charged at Lapalala Wilderness for overnight guests and custodians/lodges with property on the reserves contribute Conservation levies for their sites.

How did your project team identify these needs?

All of the relevant organizations have been involved in environmental education or the protection of rhino for numerous years (see below) and are well-established in the area. Welgevonden and Lapalala Wilderness are situated within the Waterberg Intensive Wildlife Zone (W-IWZ), a government initiative by the Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and Environment (DFFE) in partnership with the Peace Parks Foundation (PPF), working together to combat poaching within the area. Rhino poaching figures are reported annually and can be tracked over time. Annual Reports are available to substantiate the project needs.

Lapalala Wilderness School started in 1981

Lapalala Wilderness Nature Reserve was formally declared in 2020, but involved in conservation since the 1980s

Welgevonden Nature Reserve established in 1993

Welgevonden Environmental Awareness Programme was established in 2017

How were members of the benefiting community involved in finding solutions?

1. Knowledge-sharing:

Through programs like Welgevonden Environmental Awareness Programme and Lapalala Wilderness School, the project disseminates critical knowledge about conservation and provides a platform for discussion of solutions amongst the youth.

2. Engaging Local Stewards:

Rangers and local community members are key to the success of this project, ensuring local buy-in and support for conservation efforts. Rangers fight for the rhino's safety each day and understand the challenges faced. Local community members understand that these reserves provide opportunities for employment in an area which has high unemployment rates - by being stewards and protect these species and the habitats, they are part of the solution.

How were community members involved in planning the project?

A number of meetings have taken place within each of the relevant teams within the reserves (largely the Security Departments) to ensure the needs of the reserves are adequately met.

SPECIFICS TO BE ADDED BY RESERVES

Project implementation

Summarize each step of your project's implementation.

Do not include sensitive personal data, such as government ID numbers, religion, race, health information, etc. If you include personal data, you are responsible for informing those whose personal data is included that you are providing it to Rotary and that it will be processed in accordance with Rotary's Privacy Policy.

#	Activity	Duration
1	Nutritional Research: Continuous research is needed to manage and maintain rhino populations within the reserves. Rescue rhinos often struggle to adapt to new vegetation, leading to poor body condition and unsuccessful breeding. This research will help understand these challenges and support a student in	1 year advanced studies on rhino nutrition.

2	Supplementary Feeding: Linked to the above research, supplementary feeding ensures that rhinos maintain good body condition and that mothers have sufficient resources to provide milk for their calves.	1 year
3	Welgevonden Environmental Awareness Programme: WEAP is the reserve's outreach program, initiated during the height of rhino poaching. It aims to expose children to wildlife by bringing them to Welgevonden and other wildlife properties. The program also mentors youth in life skills, conservation training, and education. Funds may be allocated to a bursary scheme for deserving candidates or to facilitate additional visits focused on rhino conservation.	6 months
4	Lapalala Wilderness School (LWS) Public Speaking Competition: In celebration of World Rhino Day, 145 learners from surrounding communities are invited to present on the social, political, and economic impacts of rhino poaching and propose solutions through posters or speeches.	3 months
5	Rhino Tracking Devices: To assist in monitoring and treating rhinos, foot collars or other tracking devices will be used. These devices are also valuable for studying rhino movements, landscape use, and social interactions.	6 months
6	Leadership Ranger Training: Field rangers are crucial to the protection of Welgevonden Reserve and its rhinos. This training course includes modules on leadership, conservation ethics, law enforcement, community engagement, technology, communication, and combating corruption.	3 weeks
7	Ranger Wellness Programme: An external expert will design a wellness program for Lapalala Reserve, identifying key wellness risks and implementing a sustainable process to address these issues.	3 months
8	K-9 Unit Support: Welgevonden and Lapalala Wilderness Reserves' K-9 units are vital to counter-poaching efforts. Funding will support K-9 vehicle kennels, upgrade existing kennels, and enhance the unit's capabilities, which are also deployed to assist in the larger Waterberg area.	2 months
9	PTZ (Pan Tilt Zoom) Cameras: These AI-powered cameras will be deployed in strategic areas on Welgevonden Game Reserve to monitor for human presence, vehicles, and fires, sending alerts to the Joint Operations Centre (JOC).	3 months
10	Drone Pilot Licensing and Training: With drones becoming increasingly important in security, funds will support the licensing and training of drone pilots. These pilots will be available to serve the entire Waterberg area in case of poaching incidents.	1 month
11	Inverter for Drone Battery Charging: An inverter will be acquired to allow for the recharging of drone batteries in the field, ensuring extended pursuit capabilities during poaching incidents.	1 month

12 Ranger Children's Bursaries: Seed funding will be established for a bursary fund Ongoing supporting the education of rangers' children, providing them with opportunities to improve their lives and those of their families.

Will you work in coordination with any related initiatives in the community?

Yes

Briefly describe the other initiatives and how they relate to this project.

Waterberg Intensive Wildlife Zone (W-IWZ) - INFO TO BE ADDED HERE

Please describe the training, community outreach, or educational programs this project will include.

Training/Tuition:

- Drone pilots license training will be provided
- Ranger Wellness Programme will be developed and rolled-out
- Leadership Ranger Training will be provided
- Seed funding will be obtained for bursaries for community members
- Student will conduct research and obtained advanced studies qualification

Education Programmes/Community Outreach:

- WEAP - funding will be provided for bursaries or transport for rhino-focused educational outings for youth in the affected area

LWS - learners from surrounding communities are invited to present on the social, political, and economic impacts of rhino poaching and propose solutions through posters or speeches.

How were these needs identified?

Through the experience of the organizations working in the area, as well as numerous meetings held ahead of the submission of this application.

What incentives (for example, monetary compensation, awards, certification, or publicity), will you use, if any, to encourage community members to participate in the project?

The community surrounding these reserves will welcome the project, as it provides additional protection to endangered species, and will ensure the continues employment of a number of local community members within the conservation, security and ecotourism industries.

The opportunity for their children to obtain bursaries to further educate their children will be welcomed, as opportunities are limited within the area.

Participants listed under the tuition/training section above will obtained certificates or qualifications, which outline their improved skill sets.

List any community members or community groups that will oversee the continuation of the project after grant-funded activities conclude.

Budget

Will you purchase budget items from local vendors?

Yes

Explain the process you used to select vendors.

Vendors will be chosen based on experience and comparative pricing (multiple quotes will be obtained ahead of deciding on the chosen vendor). In some cases, there may only be one vendor available, based on the specialized requirement of the training/equipment

Did you use competitive bidding to select vendors?

Yes

Please provide an operations and maintenance plan for the equipment or materials you anticipate purchasing for this project. This plan should include who will operate and maintain the equipment and how they will be trained.

TO BE SUPPLIED BY LWNR AND WGR

Describe how community members will maintain the equipment after grant-funded activities conclude. Will replacement parts be available?

TO BE SUPPLIED BY LWNR AND WGR

If the grant will be used to purchase any equipment, will the equipment be culturally appropriate and conform to the community's technology standards?

Yes

Please explain.

These two reserves are well-versed in the technology required and their operation, as they have been protecting rhino's for many years. To combat rhino poaching, the head of security of each reserve, as well as the security members within each team need to be up to speed with changes in technology. Where required, additional training has been included in this global grant - such as drone pilot license.

After the project is completed, who will own the items purchased by grant funds? No items may be owned by a Rotary district, club, or member.

The equipment will be owned by the relevant reserve or organization, namely Lapalala Wilderness Nature Reserve and Welgevonden Game Reserve.

Funding

Does your project involve microcredit activities?

Have you found a local funding source to sustain project outcomes for the long term?

Yes

Please describe this funding source.

External support and engagement in ongoing fundraising activities through ecotourism, conservation levies, funding applications, and private donations will continue for all organizations concerned. Both Welgevonden and Lapalala Wilderness reserves have been in existence for over thirty years, are dedicated to conservation in the long term and have sustainability plans in place.

Will any part of the project generate income for ongoing project funding? If yes, please explain.

No
